

All 4 Gas Confined Space Monitors are the same Aren't they ... ??

NO.....

They don't all have a large easy to read display, simple one button operation, configurable sensor options with a 'black box' event logger or optional full data logging capabilities, field replaceable plug-in sensors and IPX5 water ingress protection plus a choice of alkaline or rechargeable batteries ...

NO.....

..they don't all have an optional bolt-on pump powered from the unit....

.....with tubing, probe and filtration attachment options for tank entry and difficult access....

.....or a robust bolt in car charging option for rugged everyday use..

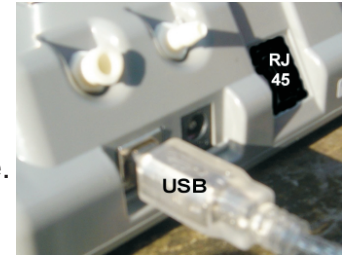

NO.....

..they don't all have an intelligent stand alone Docking Station for full function checking and full calibration in under 90 seconds...

.....with USB or Network connectivity to allow multiple user and/or multiple site control of instruments at a single source.

NO.....

.....they don't all have innovative software which allows viewing of event or data logging, predictive sensor life calculations or the allocation of tool ownership for full management control including production of your own Calibration Certificates.....
