About Us

Town and Country Covers is a vehicle seat cover manufacturer and distributor based in Hampshire, United Kingdom. The idea for protective seat covers initially came from the water sports industry. The covers were first produced in 1986 for sailors, windsurfers and surfers who wanted to drive home in their wetsuits without damaging their seats. The market quickly increased as people from other industries, such as builders, mechanics and dog owners, also began to show an interest in protecting their seats. This demand rapidly outgrew the in-house capacity of the original designer, who still leads the design team today, and the business began to expand into the wide range of seat covers we currently supply. Our world class materials, suppliers and manufacturing facilities, coupled with our in-house design and pattern-making potential enable Town and Country Covers to offer the highest specification in our products. Our covers are distributed through a vast network of automotive and agricultural dealers, as well as online sellers. This means that Town and Country Covers can be purchased throughout the UK as well as abroad.

Our Material

Choice of fabric is important to us. Our covers are made from 600 denier Polyester with a waterproof Polyurethane coating (generally referred to as 600D/PU). Despite previously using nylon with a PVC backing, in 2006 we changed to the present 600D/PU combination when we expanded our business to Australia: we found the nylon/ PVC combination to be extremely uncomfortable in hot environments as well as feeling very cold on chilly mornings. Furthermore, PVC is environmentally damaging on multiple levels and most responsible retailers have phased it out. We work with the same fabric sources and manufacturing partners as top sports companies. The 600D/ PU that we use is tough and durable, in addition to being waterproof to a hydrostatic head of 600mm. It also has excellent UV resistance to resist fading. The 600D polyester has an extremely heavy duty matrix, which gives high resistance to tearing and scuffing, one of the many reasons that this material is widely used in backpacks, soft luggage and sports goods. We currently supply our seat covers to the motor, transport, construction and agriculture markets with a returns rate of less than 0.09% - quality is our number one priority.

Vehicle Application

We are committed to ensuring that every customer finds the correct product for their vehicle. To this end, we have created a Seat Cover Finder available on our website, a feature that allows customers to simply and quickly locate the best cover for their vehicle. It is accessible at www.townandcountrycovers.com/coverfinder. We also have a growing library of fitting guides, some of which include video demonstrations.

Our Universal Van seat covers are heavy duty, waterproof and designed to fit a wide variety of vehicles. Our range includes single driver and passengers-eats (3D Universal Front found on page 2), double passenger (Van Double and Van Stretch on page 6) and rear crew seats (Van Crew Rear on page 8).

These can be found in our universal covers section.

Our universal covers will fit almost all vehicles on the road, however if your seat has special functions (such as under seat storage or a fold down tray), universal covers will still fit but may not allow for all these functions.

To keep up with the increasing complexity of seats in Vans and Light Commercial vehicles, we have also created a large number of tailored seat covers for the more popular van models such as all the new Ford Transit models, Vauxhall Vivaro / Renault Trafic and Cirtoën Berlingo / Peugeot Partner. These covers will allow for special functions of a seat, such as under seat storage or a fold down tray.

Our range of tailor made covers for left hand drive vehicles is also a new addition to our range.
